US-CHINA CLEANTECH SHOWCASE

In just the last few years, China has surpassed the West and risen to the top in terms of cleantech production, leading to its superior standing in the international market. By combining strong manufacturing capabilities with government support, this market has become a hub for advanced research, innovative technologies and cleantech investment. The Cleantech Investor Forum, hosted by China Cleantech Focus, will discuss the many dynamics of investing in and running a successful business in the cleantech industry. This event is relevant for startups generating new cleantech solutions, investors searching for profitable investments, and large companies looking to improve their businesses or to move into new sectors.

About The Co-Organizers

China Cleantech Focus is a professional organization actively working to accelerate the development of Cleantech in China. We use events and forums as a platform to deliver high-quality content and networking.

OnGreen is the world's largest greentech marketplace with $2.0 billion in investment opportunity from companies worldwide. Deals span 256 cleantech sectors and range from seed to large expansion rounds.

9:30 - 10:30 The State of the Chinese Cleantech Industry

As the global economy slowly clawed its way to recovery from the financial crisis, China witnessed dramatic developments in the cleantech industry. In 2010 cleantech investment in China reached a record of $54.4 billion, a 39% increase compared to 2009. The Chinese government's increasing support for the development of the domestic cleantech industry has created a greater number of opportunities for Chinese and overseas companies. Energy generation, transportation, recycling, energy efficiency, energy storage and wastewater are expected to be the next hot sectors. How will this industry continue to evolve and what will be its influence on the Chinese marketplace? What can be done to advance cleantech investment in China? This panel will bring cleantech industry leaders, investors and technology experts together share their thoughts on the cleantech landscape of 2011 and the years to come.
